

YELLOW FEVER certificates - for clarification

There has been some confusion arising from a recent announcement from the Ministry of Health in Zanzibar, also repeated on some travel advisory web sites, regarding the requirements for a yellow fever certificate. Clarification from the Zanzibar Association of Tourism Investors (ZATI) states:

Certificates NOT needed for direct European arrivals.

"Yellow Fever. Information & Regulations from the Tanzanian Ministry of Health and Social Welfare; Tanzania

1. All guests/visitors arriving from Non Endemic Yellow Fever zone(s) will not be required to show a Yellow Fever vaccination certificate on their arrival to Tanzania.
2. All guests/visitors en route to Tanzania, who have passed through an Endemic Yellow Fever zone(s) BUT did not leave that country's airport, will be treated as above (1) above.
3. All guests/visitors en route to Tanzania, who have passed through an Endemic Yellow Fever zone(s) and have left the airport of that endemic country, will be required to show yellow fever certificates on their arrival in Tanzania. Otherwise they will be required to have a vaccination at the entry point of arrival in Tanzania (vaccination fee US $ 50)
4. All guests from Endemic Yellow Fever zone(s) will be treated as those in (3) above
5. All guests/visitors travelling from the Tanzania mainland to Zanzibar will not be required to show their yellow fever vaccination certificate as Zanzibar is inside the United Republic of Tanzania

Note: The same regulations now apply to those flying directly to Zanzibar"
